DISGUISED AS A MAN.

Lizzie Thomas, of Bloomsburg, is Arrested at Nashville, Tenn.

Lizzie Thomas, who has been a conspicuous figure on the streets of Bloomsburg in the past, and whose waywardness and utter disregard for propriety, has excited comment, was arrested at Nashville, Tenn., Monday. The parents of the girl are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas, who have been estranged from each other for several years. Thomas is now employed in Danville, his wife resides out near Morgantown. The girl disappeared from her local common, shortly after the robbery of Leonard Jacoby's residence in Mt. Pleasant township, in which she is believed to have been an accomplice. One of the burglars, Cleveland Coleman, was recently arrested, and is now behind the bars in the County jail. He is known to have been assisted in the crime, but his accomplices succeeded in evading the law. This arrest, will, it is believed, throw some light on the case. The following account is an Associated Press dispatch from Nashville, dated Oct. 7.

"Lizzie Thomas, of Bloomsburg, Pa., a beautiful girl of eighteen years, is in tears to-night at Earlington, Ky., where she was arrested this afternoon while masquerading in male attire. Frank Taylor, a notorious diamond thief and safe blower of Louisville and Cincinnati, was arrested at Earlington this afternoon suspected of robbing a Paducah, Ky., jewelry house of several thousand dollars worth of jewelry a few nights ago. Two companions were taken into custody. The officers searched him and found an express receipt dated October 4 for goods shipped to a point in the South. It is thought this package contains the stolen jewelry. One of the party at once impressed the officers as being a woman in disguise, and upon being questioned she admitted the fact and said she had been arrested several times before but that her identity had never before been discovered. She gave her name as Lizzie Thomas, of Bloomsburg, Penna. and said she left home because she was not treated well by her brothers, and that her father is wealthy. She is unusually pretty and only about eighteen years old, has light brown hair, cut man fashion, blue eyes, full round face and features and fine complexion, is of medium height and weighs about 110 pounds. The three arrived at Earlington in a box car."

'Squire Jacoby officiated at the marriage of George Anderson, of Danville, to Miss Florence Stilles, of town. The event took place in the 'Squire's office Saturday afternoon.

THE BIG FAIR IS ON.

The Columbia County Agricultural Society opened its gates on Monday for the admission of exhibitors, of which there is a large number. The scene in and about the main buildings is one of great activity. The attendance to day promises to be good, but the management is anticipating a much larger crowd tomorrow. The entries for the races are all in, and we herewith append them. Take a glance at the list and pick the favorites.

The Catawissa-Normal foot ball game scheduled for Normal Athletic Field this p. m., has been cancelled on account of the fair.

WEDDED ON TUESDAY.

A genuine surprise to the many friends and acquaintances of the couple was the announcement of the marriage of William H. Brower, of this town, to Miss Margaret Love, of Derry Township, Montour County. The happy event was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Love, Tuesday morning. The officiating clergyman was Rev. G. H. Hemingway, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The house was very tastefully decorated for the occasion with ferns and potted plants. After sumptuous refreshments the newly married couple departed amid the usual shower of rice, for a wedding tour. They will arrive in Bloomsburg Saturday evening, and go to housekeeping in a house on Penn Street, which has been prepared for their occupancy. Mr. Brower ranks as one of our prominent business men, being a dealer in carpets. The bride is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School. We extend felicitations.

A Good Company.

The Murray and Mackey Bon Ton Ideals is the attraction at the Opera House this week. The Company made a favorable impression Monday evening when "A Man of Mystry" was presented, and "Sentenced for Life" on Tuesday night was well received Specialties of a high order of excellence are introduced between the acts, making a continuous performance and relieving the tiresome waits which is usually the case. The plays for the balance of the week will be as follows: Wednesday night "A Struggle for Honor," Thursday night "The Irish Exile," Friday night "Brother Against Brother," Saturday afternoon matinee "East Lynn," Saturday night "My Tiger Lily." Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats can be purchased at Bidleman's.

There is no free-for-all race at the Fair this season. That event will be succeeded by the 2:09 class, which takes place Friday afternoon.

The Bloomsburg Wheelmen have issued invitations for a dance, to be held in Evans' Hall Thursday evening.

Finger Rings.

Every imaginable shape and styles in great abundance, all well selected.

A DAY OF ORATORY.

Spirited Debate In the Episcopal Convention.

A CHANGE IN FORM OF WORSHIP.

It Is Believed That the Amendment Adopted Will Lead to a Large Increase in Membership—Sunday School Workers In Session.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—This was a day of oratory in the house of deputies of the triennial Episcopal convention. The debate which began last Saturday on the proposed addition to article 10 of the constitution proscribing the form of worship was continued all day and resulted in its adoption. As adopted it is as follows:

"But provision may be made by canon for the temporary use of old forms and directories of worship by congregations not in union with this church who are willing to accept the spiritual oversight of the bishop of the diocese or missionary district."

The debate was very animated, and until the result was made known it was the prevailing opinion that the vote would be much more evenly divided than it was. It was strongly urged by the advocates of the proposed change that its adoption would open the way to a great increase in the membership of the church, while its opponents regarded it as too radical an innovation.

The house of bishops adopted the amendment to article 1, section 13, of the constitution, already approved by the deputies, which in effect makes the presiding bishop of the church elective for a term of three years by a majority of bishops. It was voted, in view of the growing importance of missionary work in China, to divide the district of Shanghai into two departments to be known as those of Shanghai and Hankow. The bishops considered a number of reports and transacted much routine business.

The Daughters of the King elected a council and decided to hold meetings triennially hereafter, preferably in the convention city.

The American Sunday School institute elected Bishop Talbot of central Pennsylvania president and retained Rev. H. L. Duhring of Philadelphia as secretary-treasurer. Its sessions were addressed by several Sunday school workers.

Shamrock II. to Winter Here.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—From present indications it is highly probable there will be some very interesting racing among the ninety foot yachts next season. Sir Thomas Lipton has decided to keep the Shamrock II. in America this winter with a view of racing her next spring and summer against the Constitution and Columbia. The Shamrock is to be dismantled at once. Her mast will be taken out so that she can pass under the Brooklyn bridge, and she is to be towed after being stripped to New London, Conn., there to be laid up for the winter with the Constitution, which will also have a berth at that place. Sir Thomas Lipton is confined to his yacht, the Erin, which is lying off West Twenty-sixth street in the North river. His right leg, which was hurt while he was boarding the tender Porto Rico a few weeks ago, is giving him considerable pain.

Crane Renominated.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—With one ballot which gave Herbert L. Parker of Lancaster the nomination for attorney general over Robert C. Harris of East Bridgewater the only contest in the Republican state convention yesterday was decided. The other nominations from that of W. Murray Crane for governor for a third term at the head of the ticket down through the list were unanimous, and the vote for Mr. Parker was made unanimous on motion of Mr. Harris.

Woman Accused of Fourteen Murders

DAYTON, O., Oct. 8.—Mrs. A. J. Witwer, a widow residing in this city, has been arrested by the police at the instigation of the coroner and is held a prisoner at Central station pending an investigation into very serious charges. Mrs. Witwer, the police say, is suspected of fourteen murders, the list including four husbands, five children, one sister and four members of different families in which she was employed as housekeeper.

Senator Depew to Wed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Herald says: "At last Senator Chauncey M. Depew has surrendered to Cupid. Before many months have passed he will lead a bride to the altar. His fiancee is Miss May Palmer, who, although of an old New York family, is little known in this city, as she has lived abroad for years. With all becoming modesty the eloquent senator admitted the truth last night.

Noted Educator Dead.

ANDOVER, Mass., Oct. 5.—Death has removed a prominent figure in American academic life in Rev. Cecil F. P. Bancroft, for twenty-eight years the head of Phillips, Andover. He was a graduate of Dartmouth college, 1860, and of Andover Theological seminary, 1867. He was principal of the Lookout Mountain (Tenn.) institution since 1878, having had in this time about 1,000 pupils under his care.

An Anatomical Freak.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—The case of Arthur Zimmerman, twenty-two years old, of this city, who has just died at the City hospital, presents a complete reversal of the natural order of anatomical arrangement in that all of his organs which normally should have been on his right side were on his left side, and vice versa. Physicians say that only a few similar cases are recorded.

THE CUP REMAINS.

Lipton's Yacht Defeated In Three Straights.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Columbia made it "three straight," and the American's cup stays here. Yesterday's race was a gallant struggle over a run and a beat in a wind of about ten knots. The Columbia had an actual lead of fifteen seconds at the start, though both boats failed to cross within the handicap time. The Shamrock passed her in the run and was forty-nine seconds ahead at the outer mark. The Irish boat led all the way home on the beat, but not by enough to insure victory. The finish was very close. The Shamrock crossed the line at 3:35:38 o'clock, official time. The Columbia crossed at 3:35:40 o'clock, official time.

The Columbia had an allowance of forty-three seconds and was well within it.

For the second time she has now successfully foiled the attempt of the Irish knight to wrest from our possession the cup that means the yachting supremacy of the world. And plucky Sir Thomas Lipton, standing on the bridge of the Erin, led his guests in three hearty hurrahs for the successful defender. "She is the better boat," he said, "and she deserves to be cheered."

CAPTAIN CHARLES BARR.

The series of races just closed will always be memorable as the closest ever sailed for the cup, and Sir Thomas, although defeated, will go home with the satisfaction of knowing that his golden yacht is the ablest foreign boat that ever crossed the western ocean. During both series of races not an untoward incident has occurred, and Sir Thomas will return to England by far the most popular of all the foreigners who have challenged for the America's trophy.

Yesterday's race on paper was the closest of the series, but because of the flukiness of the wind on the beat home as a contest of the relative merits of the yachts it is not to be compared with the magnificent, truly run and royally fought battles of Saturday and Thursday. The conditions of the race at the start were very similar to those of the previous day. The wind was strong and from the shore, embroidering the sea with foam, but piling up no swell, ideal conditions for the challenger.

REPRIEVE FOR MISS STONE.

Extension of One Month's Time by Brigands Reported.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—"It is reported from Sofia," says a dispatch from Vienna to The Daily Express, "that United States Consul Dickenson and an envoy of the missionary society arrived there Saturday, intending to follow up Miss Stone, the abducted missionary, and to deposit a portion of the ransom. The brigands have extended the time for payment one month."

The Daily Telegraph publishes the following dispatch from Vienna:

"Mr. Dickenson and the director of the American mission had a long audience of Prince Ferdinand at Sofia. There is no doubt that Miss Stone was abducted under orders from the Macedonian committee."

State Department In Charge.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—A portion of the money in the hands of Kidder, Peabody & Co. has been sent to the state department at Washington, as the money is to go through that medium. During the afternoon the officials of the American board in charge of the congregation missions met informally. After this meeting it was officially given out that the state department at Washington has agreed to take full charge of the delivery of the ransom to the brigands. If news comes that Miss Stone still lives or until the news of her death is received, collections for the ransom will continue to be made.

Half a Million Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The annual report of Thomas Fitchie, commissioner of immigration at New York, shows that 453,496 aliens arrived at the port of New York during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1901. There were also 133,056 citizens of the United States who arrived from abroad. Nearly 30,000 of the increase of last year was in immigration from southern Italy alone.

Arbitration Declined.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Both parties to the asphalt controversy, the New York and Bermudez company and the Warner-Quinlan syndicate, have declined to enter into the arrangement for an amicable settlement of their troubles, the foundation of which was laid by Minister Bowen at Caracas last week.

Four Trainmen Killed.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Oct. 7.—Four Panhandle railroad trainmen met their death near Onward, fourteen miles southeast of here, yesterday in a rear end collision of freight trains.

ONE WRONG RIGHTED

Statement Concerning Sampson and the Maclay Book.

APPROVAL OF HARSH TERMS DENIED

The Admiral Did Not Give His Consent to the Publication of Unjust Statements About Admiral Schley.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Colonel Robert M. Thompson of this city, president of the United States Naval Academy Alumni association, makes the following statement in connection with the Schley inquiry:

"There is one story which I am very anxious should be truthfully presented to the public. After Maclay's book was published Mr. Maclay stated that his proofs had been submitted to the commanding officers, including Admiral Sampson, and that they approved his statements. A reporter calling upon Admiral Sampson when he was ill in his bed obtained from the admiral what appeared to be a confirmation of this statement. The admiral was asked if he had seen and read the proofs of Maclay's book, and he said yes, but unfortunately he was too ill to go into the matter at any length and explain everything, and so the public was informed and today believes that Admiral Sampson entirely approved the statement that Schley was a coward and a caitiff, which was the gist of Maclay's charge against Schley.

"I am in a position to state the true facts, and you may absolutely rely upon them as the truth. The proofs were sent by Mr. Maclay to Admiral Sampson with a request that they should be read and corrected. The admiral at the time was not in good health and did not wish to undertake the labor, but his secretary pointed out that the Maclay history was a standard one and used at the Naval academy as a textbook. This volume brought the history down through the period of the Spanish war, and it was desirable that there should be no inaccuracies in it. The admiral therefore consented to read them, and he did correct a certain part of them, but as soon as he arrived at the part which contained the statement that Schley was a coward and a caitiff he was very much angered and said the statement was one the author had no right to make, that it was unjust and unfair to speak of any naval officer in such terms and declined to have anything further to do with the proofs.

"His secretary, impressed with the great desirability of having the statements of facts accurate and not believing that he was in any way responsible for the statements of opinions, did on his own account compare the book with the records and make on the margins a number of corrections. As these were in the same handwriting as those made when Admiral Sampson was giving his personal attention to the corrections Mr. Maclay was perfectly justified in his statement. The order of the secretary of the navy forbidding naval officers to make any statement for publication regarding this controversy, issued immediately after this interview, prevented the above correction being officially made."

Ameer of Afghanistan Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A news agency publishes the following dispatch from Simla, dated last evening: "Habib Oullah Khan, eldest son of the ameer of Afghanistan, has reported to the British agent at Kabul that the ameer died last Thursday after a brief illness." A dispatch to the press from Simla says the ameer was taken seriously ill Sept. 28. Habib Oullah Khan Oct. 2 asked in a durbar that public prayers be offered for the ameer. In the morning of Oct. 3 Habib Oullah Khan announced that his father had expired at 3 o'clock that morning.

Window Glass Factories Start.

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 8.—Fires have been started in the furnaces of the trust window glass factories throughout the gas belt. The local managers and the superintendents are preparing for the starting of all the factories of the American Window Glass company on Nov. 1. There is a shortage of window glass blowers in Indiana. The deficiency will be made up in part within the next fortnight by over 200 Belgians who are coming from their native land to work in the gas belt factories.

Eighty Killed In a Church Fight.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—"In Pavlouka, a town of 4,000 inhabitants 120 miles from Kharkov," says a dispatch to The Standard from Moscow, "a quarrel between Stundists and Orthodox church people led to a free fight. The Russian church was wrecked. Eighty people were killed. The police were powerless, and troops were sent from Kharkov to restore order. The Russian priests escaped with the more valuable sacred images and altar vessels."

Human Flesh For Food.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 8.—The steamship Glenogle brings news of human flesh being freely sold in the famine districts of Shansi, China. Babes and young children are being butchered. The empress dowager has commanded that the practice be stopped, but is able to enforce her orders only around Hsianfu.

Miss Gould's Beneficence.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Miss Helen Miller Gould has given to Vassar college two scholarships of $10,000 each. These are for the benefit of graduates of the Tarrytown High school and of the Washington Irving High school at Irvington, N. Y. Miss Gould has already presented two other scholarships to the college.

The Outlook.

"Will you still love me, Clara, if, after we are married, you discover me to be full of faults?"

"Of course, Clarence, I'm terribly proud; and I never could bring myself to admit—even to you—that I had made the mistake of my life."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Little Tommy Knew.

Minister—If anyone present can show cause why this couple should not become joined together as man and wife, let him speak or forever hold his peace.

Little Tommy—I kin, mister. He thinks auntie's only 25, and she's 40!—Tit-Bits.

He Was Handicapped.

"He never amounted to much, did he?"

"No; but then the poor fellow never had half a chance."

"How was that?"

"He was considered a prodigy when he was young, and was treated accordingly."—Chicago Post.

A Real Benefactor.

"My dear doctor, I cannot thank you enough for performing that operation on my uncle."

"I did the best I could."

"I know, I know it. By his death two whole families are now living in comparative ease."—Judge.

Promises, But No Fulfillment.

He promised he'd return the lock of hair
She'd given him in those sweet days before her
Love cooled. 'Twas but a promise ending there,
Like that of any other hair-restorer.
—Catholic Standard and Times.

Possibly.

Some morn we may wake from our slumber
And find, in this wonderful age,
That the automobile's a back number
And that flying machine's are the rage.
—Washington Star.

Reason for It.

"But the gown doesn't fit," insisted the patron.

"That," replied the modiste, calmly, "is because you are not made right."—Chicago Post.

The Exception.

Cora—Love is blind, you know.

Merritt—But, unlike other blind things in this world, it soon recovers its sight.—Puck.

An Expedient.

"Didn't you have trouble in getting so many antiques?"

"Dear me, no—I had them made to order."—Detroit Free Press.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Oct. 5, 1901.

From chance remarks dropped in hotel lobbies and government corridors, it may be easily surmised that Republican leaders, that is the Republican party workers, are very much of the impression that they have in the White House an entirely unknown, not to say erratic, quantity. When Roosevelt was Civil Service Commissioner he was enthusiastic for Civil Service reform, insisting that merit was the only qualification for governmental employment and, at times, seriously irritating those politicians who considered that party fealty should receive its reward in patronage.

∴

When Mr. Roosevelt became governor of the State of New York, he found himself so seriously obligated to the politicians that it was impossible to disregard their advice and their claims. Nevertheless in his attitude towards the great corporations, in his efforts to effect State civil service reform and in his defeating the scheme for making the New York police force the tool of the Republican politicians, he so antagonized "the machine' that Senator Platt exerted his utmost effort to "lay him on the shelf" by shoving him into that political graveyard, the vice-presidency.

∴

As a result of all this Mr. Roosevelt has assumed command untrammeled by any promise or debt to any individual or faction and, while he has proved urbanity itself to those politicians who have had occasion to call upon him, no one can in the least foretell how he is going to handle the practical side of Republican politics and every faction is on the anxious seat.

∴

Another source of anxiety is the probability of the Democratic candidate being a dark horse. If Mr. Roosevelt will subordinate his personal views to the party good the party will, its leaders believe, stand every chance of re-election but if the administration is erratic from the politician's standpoint, if the President does not do all in his power to conciliate the varying factions and does not enable the party bosses to properly reward the line workers there is no telling what havoc a good Democrat, brought forward at the last moment and properly managed may play.

∴

On the other hand the politicians are trying to reassure themselves by the report that Mr. Roosevelt has summoned Mr. Platt to Washington for a conference on the situation in New York and that he will bring to Platt's aid all the resources of his experience both as candidate for Mayor and as Governor of New York. It is certain that, if he will, the president can put some valuable ammunition into the hands of the New York Senator, in the way of patronage. But will he? that is the question.

∴

It certainly looks as if the Steel Trust ought to add a little more water to its stock. The spectacle of this gigantic "infant industry" showing a profit of nearly $55,000,000 on the six months' business just ended and that notwithstanding it was during those six months the great strike occurred, is not one that is likely to prove of benefit to the Republican party. After the all too realistic pictures we have seen of the suffering among laboring men caused by the strike and the comfortless, cheerless and crowded condition of the laborers' homes even before the strike, we cannot help asking where is the benefit to the American laboring man which this Government fed "infant" is supposed to work? This is a question the Republican party will probably have to answer in the next campaign.

***

There promises to be a lively contest over the governorship of Hawaii in the near future and the people may have an opportunity of judging how eminently American in spirit is Republican administration of governmental affairs in "the colonies." The presence of Secretary Henry E. Cooper of the Hawaiian Territory in Washington is still a subject of speculation. He has not yet seen the President, his only conferences having been with Secretary Hitchcock but there seems to be little doubt that the real object of his visit is to present to Mr. Roosevelt a defence of Governor Dole as opposed to the representations of Judge Humphreys, et al. Judge Humphreys, before he left Washington declared himself unconditionally in favor of the candidacy of Harold M. Sewall.

∴

When it was first heralded abroad the proposition of Jno. W. Mackay and others to lay a cable to Hawaii and the Philippines without asking of the Government a cent of bounty seemed most worthy of acceptance and certainly preferable to the proposition submitted to the last Congress that a large share of the expense of laying a cable, which was to become the property of private individuals, should be borne by the Government.

∴

At first the only objection to the Mackay proposition seemed to be the purely legal question as to whether the concession granted by the Spanish Government would obligate the administration to refuse a landing to all other companies. It now transpires, however, that portions of the wording of the proposition are so obscure as to lead to the suspicion that an acceptance of the proposition would involve permission to land cables on Cuba and Porto Rico. After being discussed at the Cabinet meeting yesterday the whole matter was referred to Atty. Gen'l. Knox for elucidation.

∴

The Schley Court of Inquiry proceeds steadily and with no particularly sensational features. For the third time death has effected the Court, the last time necessitating the temporary absence of Judge-Advocate Lemley who was called away to attend the funeral of his sister in North Carolina.

∴

So far nothing has been brought out which reflects seriously on Admiral Schley although a series of coincidences seem to have operated to prevent his receiving information and instructions which the Navy Department attempted to communicate to him.

∴

While it is hard to locate any particular blame for the failure to deliver the important dispatch announcing Admiral Cevera's presence in Santiago Harbor and instructing Admiral Schley to go there, the experience should prove a warning to the Navy Department in the future. The imperative necessity of constant ability to establish communication between the Commander-in-Chief and his subordinate officers is one of which no successful campaigner ever loses sight.

This is a Stubborn World.

It is Full of Kickers and Their Name is Mule.

This is a stubborn, perverse world. Just when you think things are going your way and everything promises to run along smoothly somebody gets mulish. Mulishness begets mulishness and before you know it, what appeared to be an easy proposition, rises up before you like a mountain. How often hath a man gotten up in the morning full of hope and great schemes for the betterment of his fellow man in general and himself in particular, and returned at night dejected and downcast and his cherished plans knocked into a cocked hat—all because the rest of the world is too narrow to see things as he sees them.

Worth Knowing.

A circular sent out from United States pension office at Pittsburg reads as follows: By act of congress approved August 23, 1894, fourth class postmasters are authorized to administer oaths to pensioners and their witnesses, in the execution of pension vouchers. Vouchers executed before fourth class post masters will not be accepted, unless the post-marking stamp is affixed; this stamp is the one used to show the date a letter is filed in the post office for transmission, or on which it is received for delivery. Stamps used in the transaction of other post office business will not do.

Will Petition Court.

The people of Conyngham township are preparing a monster petition to present to Judge Little, demanding that the proper authorities of the township be compelled to have the school statement published. It is time to call a halt when the people must appeal to the Court to have the statement printed. If they permit them to ignore their duties in that respect, next time they may go a little further, and, by and by, they may ignore the taxpayers entirely. Teach the officials to perform their duties now, as they are the servants of the public and not the public their servants, as many imagine.—Centralia American.

A Pleasant Event.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 1, marked an event, the memory of which will be long cherished in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hagenbuch, near Hidlay church. It was Mrs. Hagenbuch's 50th birthday, the day which marked the beginning of the new half century in her life, and many of her friends and neighbors taking advantage of the occasion met and gave her a most pleasant surprise. The evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner, and all present will ever look back with much joy and pleasure to this happy occasion.

A large table ladened with the best of the land, and the richest delicacies of the season, was made ready and at 8 o'clock a number began relieving it of its contents; it was again andagain replenished, and at the first "wee" hour of the night the last number bid it adieu saying there still remains an abundance. The table was nicely decorated and on its center was placed a large cake having on it twenty-three small wax tapers, which when lighted made a most beautiful appearance. As a token of the love and esteem of her many friends and in remembrance of the day and occasion Mrs. H. was made the recipient of a very beautiful cut glass dish. It was presented by the guests through a few well chosen remarks by Mr. Ammerman and received for her by Rev. H. E. Harmon. Those present were:

Our Working Girls.

Life to the most favored is not always full of sunshine, but to the average American girl or woman who is obliged to work for her living, and, perhaps to help others at home, life is often a heavy drag in consequence of illness.

Women who work, especially those who are constantly on their feet, are peculiarly liable to the development of organic troubles, and should particularly heed the first manifestations, such as backache, pains in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach, irregular and painful monthly periods, faintness, weakness, loss of appetite and sleep.

MISS ELLA BRENNER, E. ROCHESTER, OHIO.

The young lady whose portrait we publish herewith had all these symptoms, and in addition leucorrhœa, and was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. First, she wrote a letter to Mrs. Pinkham's laboratory at Lynn, Mass., describing her trouble, received in reply accurate instructions what to do to get well, and now wishes her name used to convince others that they may be cured as she was.

The same helping hand, free of charge or obligation, is extended, to every ailing woman in America. If you are sick you are foolish not to get this valuable advice, it costs you nothing, and she is sure to help you. Don't wait until it is too late—write to-day.

The Text Was All Right.

A young minister who did not scruple to fish for compliments was once invited to take dinner with a rather reticent elder. Turn the conversation as he would, the young man could not get his host to say "sermon," and at last he boldly introduced the important subject by remarking, directly: "That was a fine text I had to-day."

But the elder knew his man. "Ou, aye," he replied, cautiously, "there was naething wrang wi' the text!"—Tit-Bits.

Woman Fashion.

They evidently loved each other, for they called each other dear and were most affectionate in manner; and the one with the picture hat remarked, after they were seated in the car, that it seemed an age since they had taken an outing together, and the one with an orchid in her buttonhole said: "Yes, indeed! All of five weeks!" And when the conductor came around each paid her own car fare.—Leslie's Weekly.

Always Cautious.

The count of Oweall found himself in money difficulty and sent for a money lender to bring him $2,000 at once.

"Count," said Goldfox, "I cannot manage to let you have $2,000 at such short notice, but if you will sign a note for $2,000 I will advance you $1,500 on the spot."

"What? A note? Not much. I had to pay a note once before. No more notes for me!"—N. Y. Times.

Children's Fertilizer.

That's a good name for Scott's Emulsion. Children are like young plants. Some will grow in ordinary soil. Others need fertilizers.

The nature of some children prevents them from thriving on ordinary food Such children grow right if treated right.

All they need is a little fertilizer—a little extra richness. Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment.

Fertilizers make things grow. That's just what Scott's Emulsion does. It makes children grow in flesh, grow in strength, grow rich blood, grow in mind, grow happy. That's what we make it for.

IN FAVOR OF FUSION.

Andrew J. Palm Withdraws From the Democratic State Ticket.

There is now nothing in the way of fusion in this State. The path was made clear on Monday when Andrew J. Palm, withdrew from the nomination. State Chairman Creasy has his formal withdrawal, while Secretary of the Commonwealth Griest has his sworn statement. Mr. Palm commends his probable successor to the people of Pennsylvania in most complimentary language, declaring there is no issue in the campaign but patriotism and principle and denies a story circulated by the State machine managers that he is being forced off the ticket. His letter follows:

MEADVILLE, PA., October 7.

"Democratic State Central Committee, Per Hon. W. T. Creasy, Chairman, Harrisburg, Pa.

"Gentlemen: At the recent Democratic State convention I stated publicly as well as privately that I would not stand in the way of uniting the reform forces of the State on a fusion ticket, if such union should seem advisable. At the notification meeting six weeks later I again expressed a willingness to withdraw if the Democratic State central committee should deem it wise in order to effect a fusion of the anti-machine forces.

"From the general tone of the Democratic press, as well as from the opinions of the members of the committee who have been consulted, I am convinced that the Democratic sentiment of the State is strongly in favor of uniting our strength with that of the Independent Republicans in what promises to be a successful contest against that political organization which is so lost to all sense of honor and shame as to indorse the last Legislature in a State platform.

"While it is true that the State convention passed a resolution indicating opposition to fusion, it is equally true that a great change in sentiment has taken place since the 15th of August, and there is no doubt that if a convention were to be held today it would be heartily in favor of uniting with those who are fighting the same battle for better government.

"In view of all that goes to make up the present political situation, I deem it my duty as a citizen, as well as a candidate, to do what I can to make the way clear for a fusion ticket, and, therefore, I have this day forwarded notice of my withdrawal as a nominee for State Treasurer to be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

"In the hope of creating a feeling of antagonism some of the Republican papers have been saying that I am to be thrown off the ticket or forced to withdraw. The truth is that neither Democrat or Independent Republican has demanded or even requested my withdrawal. On the contrary all who have mentioned the matter have said that if I preferred to remain on the ticket that would end further talk of fusion as far as they were concerned; and while I would willingly continue as a candidate, if that were thought best for the cause in which all good citizens are so deeply interested, I withdraw just as willingly since a majority of these citizens believe that success is more likely to result from a union of the anti-machine forces.

"Every good Democrat should carefully acquiesce in the judgment of the majority and especially when he is not asked to indorse any principle or advocate any measure to which reasonable objection can be made. There is something before us this year more important than quibbling over party names, personal interest or partisan advantage. There is, in fact, no political question before us in this contest. The men elected this fall will have nothing more to do with the tariff question, the financial problem, the ship subsidy scheme, the Nicaragua canal or any other political subject than the man in the moon.

"There is a higher and more important issue than all these wrangles over matters of money. The principles of the decalogue itself are forced upon us as the gage of battle and we are called upon to decide whether bribery, perjury and general political corruption shall be rebuked or whether they shall be willfully indorsed at the ballot box.

"It will not be considered out of place to say a word as to the Hon. Elisha A. Coray, who will be presented by the Independent Republicans to take the place made vacant by my withdrawal. He is a gentleman whose integrity and capability cannot be justly assailed and one whom no voter need hesitate to support if he desires to aid a candidate who is fully competent and thoroughly honest. No man who supports him will ever have cause to regret it through any act of Mr. Coray.

"To ascertain how faithfully he has stood by the honest people of the State it is but necessary to examine the proceedings of the Legislature since 1896. His voice and vote have ever been for the right and against the wrong, and his hands are unstained by the briber's touch.

"I wish to say in closing that I shall always bear in grateful remembrance the kind treatment accorded me since the nomination by the newspapers of the State, regardless of their party bias, as well as by the notification committee, the members of the State Central committee and the leaders of the party generally. Hoping that right and justice may prevail in the coming contest and victory perch upon your banners, I am, sincerely yours,

ANDREW J. PALM.

The Clearfield County Fair Association managers have been arrested for allowing games of chance to be operated on the grounds. The charges have been made by Rev. J. M. Waddell, pastor of the Clearfield Presbyterian church. The sentiment, generally, is in favor of the fair authorities. The majority of people contend that the reverend gentleman should have caused the arrest of the booth owners, who had signed an agreement with the fair managers that no gambling would be permitted. The Association had no knowledge of the presence of gamblers on the ground, and of course are greatly chagrined about their arrest.

Daniel Reigel, residing near Mountain Grove, owns a pig that has two tails, two bodies to half its length, four eyes, two in their proper places, one in the center of the head and one under the ear. Other things about his pigship make it the greatest freak in the animal line ever known in this section at least. The farmers are much interested in it.

Chicago proposes to cope with the crowded street car problem by making a law that all passengers compelled to stand up shall be assessed only a four-cent fare. The regular rate of five cents can be collected only from passengers provided with seats.

HARRISBURG LETTER.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 7.

There may be no organized opposition to the constitutional amendments to be voted on at the coming election, but one of them is of so important a character that no voter who favors honest elections can afford to be indifferent to its success. The first of these provides for personal registration in the larger cities, and the second for the use of automatic voting machines. The joint resolutions providing for the submission of these amendments have been passed through two sessions of the Legislature agreeably to the provisions of the fundamental law and if approved by the people at the coming election will become effective.

The resolutions providing for these amendments were vetoed by the Governor after the close of the session of 1899. The reason assigned for the Executive hostility to one was that it would not fulfil expectations but would involve expense to the communities affected. The Governor's objections to the other was that the machines would cost something like a million and-a-half of dollars. The supreme Court subsequently held that the Governor had no right to veto joint resolutions proposing constitutional amendments. Since that there has been no outward sign of opposition from the executive mansion or the Republican machine headquarters, though his Excellency declared in his recent Pittsburg speech that he is indifferent on the subject

The amendment providing for personal registration is of the utmost importance, however, and every citizen should support it most earnestly. It is a well established fact that the loose methods of registering voters in the larger cities is the most prolific source of ballot frauds. For example under the existing system one man may have a hundred or more names, real or fictitious, put on the registry list. Half a dozen persons can exercise this privilege in a single election district. On election day every one of these names are voted on by repeaters, personators and ballot box stuffers, and in the aggregate according to conservative estimates 80,000 fraudulent votes are cast in that way in Philadelphia every year. It is believed that 20,000 illegal votes are cast in the same way in Pittsburg and Allegheny and every city of considerable population contributes more or less to this structure of fraud.

It might reasonably be asked why personal registration has not been adopted long ago. It is a practically sure remedy for the evil, because it brings the person claiming to be a voter into the notice of the election officers and party workers a week or ten days before the election. If there is any reason to doubt his identity or question his integrity there is time to make an investigation. Moreover the same man must go through the ordeal twice. That is to say when he appears to register he must submit to the questions and again when he comes to cast his vote he is subject to examination. But such precautionary measures are not necessary in the country districts where every voter personally knows every other one. It is expensive and causes inconvenience. But the constitution requires that the laws for registry must be uniform, and therefore it is impossible under the constitution, unless it is amended, to pass a personal registry law for the large cities unless it is made to extend to all other localities in the State.

Honest elections are cheap at any price and personal registration in the big cities will guarantee honest elections. But the representatives of the counties in which there was no necessity for personal registration have always held, and justly, too, that it would be unfair to saddle their constituents with the expense to reform an abuse that only existed in other localities. For that reason the pending constitutional amendment was proposed and it ought to be adopted. As stated in the outset there may be no opposition but it is unsafe to rely on that for it may be reasonably expected that the adoption of the reform will make a vast difference in election results. With the fraudulent vote of anywhere from 100,000 to 125,000 eliminated from the returns it is doubtful if the machine would be able to carry the State at any election or on any issue, and the managers of that combination are not in the habit of voluntarily relinquishing any advantage, however unlawful it may be.

The Republican campaign was opened in Pittsburg the other evening by Governor Stone in a speech which may fitly be characterized as a politico-literary curiosity. It will be remembered that Lieutenant Governor Gobin declared in an interview given out in the same city a couple of weeks ago that the Legislature which adjourned in midsummer was the most corrupt body of its kind that has ever been assembled in this or any other State. Gobin as presiding officer of one of the branches had rare opportunities to follow the proceedings and observe the methods which prevailed. As he is a stalwart Republican it cannot be charged that he was influenced to his criticism by political prejudice or personal spleen. On the contrary it is only fair to assume that he told the truth as he saw it and regretfully as he himself declared.

In view of these facts it must have been surprising to those within the sound of Governor Stone's voice to hear him, speaking for his party, declare that he accepted the Legislature and its work as fitly representing the morality of his party. He protested that the State government is not corrupt and that the Legislature as represented in the last session is a most virtuous and meritorious body. May be he was constrained to that course by the memory of the fact that the candidate of his party for the important office of State Treasurer was not only a part of the Legislature but a conspicuously bad part. Whatever of evil was perpetrated during the session Frank G. Harris was largely responsible for. He not only "went along," to use the vernacular of the lobby, but he led in the most atrocious piece of legislation that was considered and sacrificed every public interest at the mandate of the machine. It was courageous for the Governor to endorse the record of the Legislature and in view of the facts, logical. In the nomination of Harris it was endorsed any way and it is probably wise to try to carry out the bluff.

Hello! Speaking of candidates and bluff the Republican candidate for Justice of the Supreme court is a dandy. Appointed by Stone not because he was fit but because he was a partner, he has during his brief service brought reproach on the tribunal for the first time in its long and honorable history. While a question in which the Governor was directly interested was before the court Justice Potter "electioneered" the court in favor of a decision desired by his master and communicated the secrets of the court by telephone. A justice of the Supreme court of the United States in commenting on the incident declared that Potter ought to have been impeached and one of the most distinguished common pleas judges of this State expressed the belief that a crime had been committed against every Judge on the bench. Governor Stone referred to several bills passed by the Legislature as meritorious but it is safe to say that in his opinion the most important of all was the one which makes it a misdemeanor to expose the secrets of a telephone message. Hello there, voter is that you? Are you going to vote for Governor Stone's hello candidate? G. D. H.

Pine Summit.

Chas. Brink is doing well, running as good a hotel as can be found in the country. His accommodations are excellent.

Denison Brink, an old soldier of the Civil War, has been making a protracted and pleasant visit at Pine Summit, and has returned recently, to his home, Bloomsburg.

Jas. Houghton has started his distillery again with fair prospects of success. Often makes trips into the coal regions and has a good market for his whiskies.

Josephus Lemon is doing well in the mercantile line. Is also gauger at the distillery and postmaster. Mrs. Lemon has a large millinery department in connection with the store, and doing well.

The farmers, round about, are blessed with good crops, but the recent rains retard the gleaning of the buckwheat, which is good.

E. J. Bowman is a resident of Pine Summit.

Josephus Lemon talks of leaving Pine Summit. He will be missed as a prominent citizen.

The frosts are telling on the foliage of the trees.

All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, pollutes the breath, deranges the stomach and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, treatment must be constitutional—alterative and tonic.

"I was afflicted with catarrh. I took medicines of different kinds, giving each a fair trial; but gradually grew worse until I could hardly hear, taste or smell. I then concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking five bottles I was cured and have not had any return of the disease since." EUGENE FOSNES, Lebanon, Kan.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures catarrh—it soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane and builds up the whole system.

FAIR WEEK, FAIR WEEK,
—AT—
F. P. PURSEL'S STORE.

FRIENDS:—
We say friends, but we want everybody to come to our store this week, and if you have not been our friends, we will do all we can to make you friends of ours. If you don't want to buy we will be glad to have you come and see the improvements we have made in our store building, and not our building alone, but to see how far ahead this new season's equipment is of seasons in the past. If you are tired, we have a room on second floor, with easy chairs, where we will be glad to have you go and rest.

Outer Garments, Dress Goods, Shoes, Furniture.

Outer Garments.

The demand has set in. The store is stocked to meet the demand; stocked with as bright a line of suits, coats and capes, to fit anyone, as you'll find in any store in this section, and they are reasonably priced, too. Come to our store and we will be glad to show them to you.

Dress Goods.

To tell you all about this handsome new Dress Goods equipment would require space. To tell you a little and have you guess the rest is not enough. Why not come in when you come to the Fair and see for yourself?

Furniture.

Honest merit in our furniture—don't forget that, please, and we will sell it at less than any dealer can. Come in when you come to the Fair and we will prove it to you.

Shoes.

We thought we were getting the best line in the country when we bought them, and the way we have been selling them, we are sure of it now. If you need a pair, we have them at any price.

SATISFACTION OF A MORTGAGE.

Whereas, Lewis Peishline, administrator of the estate of Michael Peishline, deceased, on October 7, 1901, presented to the Court of Common Pleas of Columbia County, Pa., a petition, setting forth that on April 1st, 1848, one Wm. Landerbach executed a certain mortgage to Ralph G. Carpenter for $614.61, against 141 acres of land, in Fishingcreek Twp., described as "All that certain 141 acres, adjoining lands of Carpenter and Frick, Sam'l Yost, Andr. S. Crevelling, et al., and that the legal presumption of payment of the same existed by lapse of time, and praying that the same should be satisfied according to law. Therefore, the holder or holders of said mortgage are hereby notified to appear at the December term of said Court and answer said petition.

The business of the Bloomsburg National Bank is constantly growing. It has been in existence only two years and two months, and its deposits now reach over $258,000, as shown by the statement published in this issue. This is $33,000 more than it was two months and a half ago, when the last statement was printed.

At a meeting of the State council of the Insurgents of the Jr. O. U. A. M., at Pittsburg, the council recreated the system of deputy state councilors. The state will hereafter be divided into districts and a deputy state councilor placed in each. In line with this action a resolution was adopted, offering a premium for every new council of twenty-five members.

A part of the machinery is being removed from the Bloomsburg Brass & Copper Company's plant. The power machinery, such as boilers, shafting, &c., will remain. There are prospects of the buildings being used for another industry. Several parties have been here inspecting the plant, and from an unimpeachable source, we are informed that the building will be occupied before long, and by an enterprise that will be a help and a credit to the town.

While in Philadelphia one day last week the editor of this paper had the pleasure of calling on Prof. James C. Beckel, at 917 Sansom street. It was many years ago that we first became acquainted with him. In 1863 he resided in Germantown, and was the organist of Christ Church, and conducted large classes in vocal and instrumental music. He was a musician by profession, and thoroughly in love with his calling. A master of music, he imbibed his enthusiasm from his teacher, Signor Phil Trajetta. For two years the writer was the pupil of Prof. Beckel, taking lessons on the piano and pipe organ, and during that time he learned to regard him with an affection that has never abated. We found this lovable old man, now in his ninetieth year, still at work, composing, publishing, and arranging music, every day at his desk. His musical works are numerous and well known, and his compositions in many lines, vocal and instrumental, secular and sacred, are many. It is now thirty-eight years since we first knew him, in our boyhood days, when the civil war was in progress. He was a patriot, and gave several sons to his country. At his advanced age he still retains his faculties, and is as active as a man of sixty. It was a great pleasure to meet him again, and it brought back to us many pleasant recollections.

Don't forget, we are leaders in fashion. Ben Gidding.

FROM FRIGID ALASKA

Annual Report of Department Commander Randall.

TELEGRAPH AND ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Over Four Hundred Miles of the Military Line Finished Under Difficult Conditions—Frequent Change of Troops Recommended.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The war department has made public the annual report of Brigadier General Randall, commanding the department of Alaska. General Randall lays much stress on the rigors of an Alaskan winter. The cold, he says, is intense and continues so from November to April, with severe and frequent blizzards. There is no dockage for ocean vessels at the supply port, Fort St. Michael's, and all supplies must be lightered from ships in open roadstead. If the weather is rough, the work of lightering becomes impossible.

General Randall says that the most important work in the department after providing for the housing and supply of troops was that of constructing the military telegraph line and military road through Alaska. The total length of line constructed up to the date of the report, Aug. 15, was about 400 miles. The work is being pushed as fast as possible, and by the close of navigation this year it is hoped that telegraphic communication between Fort St. Michael's and Fort Gibbon, 420 miles distant, will have been established. The construction of these lines, General Randall says, is attended with many difficulties peculiar to an arctic climate.

Owing to the isolation of army posts in Alaska and to the lack of facilities for instruction in drill and for convening court martials General Randall says troops left to serve there for several years must deteriorate in military efficiency. He therefore recommends that troops stationed in Alaska be relieved every two years and that only men with more than two years to serve be ordered there.

Death Ends Long Pastorate.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The Rev. L. Merrill Miller, D. D., dean of the state presbytery, is dead at the Presbyterian parsonage. He was born in Rochester Oct. 18, 1819, and had been an ordained minister for fifty-seven years, last May celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of his pastorate in Ogdensburg. It is said Dr. Miller officiated at 1,890 weddings, 1,460 funerals, preached 9,125 sermons, baptized 1,480 persons and received 1,330 persons into his church. At noon yesterday he visited the house of mourning of his oldest communicant and was to preside at the funeral in the afternoon, but was taken ill, returned home and died of heart failure.

American Shipbuilding.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The commissioner of navigation in his quarterly report shows that 393 vessels of all kinds were built in the United States and officially numbered during the three months ended Sept. 30. Of this number 370 were built of wood and 23 steel. The total gross tonnage was 68,-995 tons. Of the whole number built 361 were built on the Atlantic and gulf coasts, 1 in Porto Rico, 30 on the Pacific coast, 49 on the great lakes and 52 on the western rivers. This is an increase over the corresponding quarter of the previous year of 85 in the number built and a decrease of 20,395 tons in the gross tonnage.

Violent Storms In Europe.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Violent storms are raging along the French coasts, particularly Britanny. Many wrecks are reported in the channel. The harbor of Dunkirk and other northern harbors are crowded with vessels that have sought refuge. The storm extends even to the Mediterranean. Much damage has been done by wind and rain at Belfort and at other places inland. Telegraphic and telephonic communication has been interrupted. There has also been a sudden fall in temperature, and the first snows of the season are reported from Remiremont, Pontarlier and the Vosges mountains.

Secretary Long's Daughter Dead.

HINGHAM, Mass., Oct. 5.—A beautiful life went out, bringing sorrow to the household of Secretary John D. Long, in the death last night of Helen, his second daughter. The end came almost sooner than expected, although when the secretary was summoned home from Washington earlier in the week it was known that his daughter's condition was critical. Miss Long died of pulmonary trouble, which had its inception after close attention to the social duties during Secretary Long's first term in the cabinet.

A Hazardous Ocean Trip Begun.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 7.—Captain William Andrews, the veteran mariner, has left here for Europe in his fourteen foot boat, the Dark Secret, accompanying him on the daring trip is his young bride, whom he wedded a few weeks ago. The captain is sixty years old, and this is said to be his seventh trip across the ocean in small boats. He expects to reach the English channel in about twelve weeks. In the boat were provisions for four months.

Filipinos Starving.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 8.—Steamer advices say the island of Panay, in the Philippines, which has been affected by the plague, is now visited by famine. One hundred and thirty deaths from starvation are reported to have occurred at Capiz alone. To prevent the spread of the plague Manila has inaugurated a war against rats, paying 2½ cents for each rodent delivered to the board of health.

HODGSON TESTIFIES.

Story of Battle of July 3 Repeated In Schley Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Lieutenant Commander Hodgson again occupied the greater part of the Schley court of inquiry yesterday as a witness. He was followed on the stand by Captain W. M. Folger, formerly chief of the bureau of ordnance of the navy department, but commander of the New Orleans during the Spanish war. Lieutenant Dyson also was recalled to add some details to his former testimony concerning the coal supply of the American fleet during the Santiago blockade.

Commander Hodgson repeated and extended his story of the battle of July 3, giving the opinion that Commodore Schley's conduct on that occasion was such as that of a commander in chief should have been. He also explained at some length his correspondence with Admiral Schley concerning the alleged colloquy between them while the Santiago engagement was in progress. He said he had had no controversy with the commodore, but he repeated that the commodore had said, "Damn the Texas!" when told that that vessel was in danger.

Captain Folger said that the bombardments of the Cristobal Colon on May 31 had been eminently successful in developing the strength of the Spanish shore batteries and had shown them to be very weak. He also said that if the Spanish vessels had attempted to escape at night they could not have been seen by the blockading fleet in bad weather.

TREATY RUMORS.

England Hears of Provision to Abrogate Clayton-Bulwer Agreement.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Washington correspondent of The Daily Chronicle gives the alleged substance of a provisional canal treaty abrogating the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

Commenting editorially upon these advices, The Daily Chronicle says:

"Englishmen will be startled to learn that we have abandoned our rights under the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and surrendered every disputed point without any compensation. The new treaty is apparently another instance of Lord Salisbury's placid indifference and Lord Lansdowne's impulsive generosity.

"It is said that President Roosevelt will recommend its adoption to the senate. Doubtless Great Britain will agree to it. Although it gives us nothing at all, it will have the advantage of getting rid of all our outstanding grievances with the United States."

WOMAN KIDNAPED.

Philadelphia Newspaper Men In Queer Business.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Charged with kidnaping a woman and holding her a prisoner for four days, robbing her of jewels worth more than $2,000 and compelling her to sign bank checks for large sums of money is the story which the police unfolded here when they announced the arrest of two newspaper men, a stenographer in another newspaper office and a barber, all of whom are charged with complicity in the crime.

The men now locked up at the central police station are Howard K. Sloan, an unemployed reporter; Henry Wallace, society editor of one of the morning newspapers; J. Knight Findlay of Wayne, near here, stenographer in the business office of another morning paper, and Oscar S. Dunlap, a barber employed in one of the most prominent shops in the city. The victim is Mrs. Mabel Goodrich, the proprietress of an establishment on North Tenth street.

Many Refugees Dying.

BLOEMFONTEIN, Oct. 7.—There are now 6,500 white persons in the various refugee camps here, while there are nearly 46,000 in the various camps in the Orange River Colony. These require sixteen railway truckloads of foodstuffs weekly. The weekly death rate averages 220, mostly from measles. Fifty per cent of the victims are children under three years of age. The trains passing north are filled with women and children returning to the Rand.

American After Russian Railways.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8.—William A. Heydecker, representing Murry A. Verner of Pittsburg, has presented to the municipal council a memorial offering to take over the entire surface traction of this city and to form a company under Russian law with a capital of 100,000,000 rubles. The lines will be largely extended and electrified. The prospects of a favorable answer are excellent.

THE ROYAL MONTH AND THE ROYAL DISEASE.—Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and probably to none more so than to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. We never think of scrofula—its bunches, cutaneous eruptions, and wasting of the bodily substances—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose radical and permanent cures of this one disease are enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world. There is probably not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved its merit in more homes than one, in arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative—consumption.

Nature has just one pigment on her palette with which she produces all the marvelous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell-like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate rose of the cheek, the cherry ripeness of the lips, the iridescent brilliance of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends on the purity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty. Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a true beautifier, because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicine will cleanse the skin, brighten the complexion, brighten the eyes, and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are very effective in ridding the system of clogging residuum, which accummulates with constipated habit.

A. N. YOST, Treas. BLOOMSBURG, PA.

THE KEYSTONE COPPER MINING CO.,

Incorporated Under the Laws of South Dakota, June 15, 1901.

Capital Stock, $1,000,000.

Divided into 200,000 Shares of Par Value of $5.00 Each.

FULL PAID AND NON-ASSESSABLE

We call special attention to the fact that one share of this Company whose entire Capital Stock consists of only 200,000 shares of the par value of Five Dollars each, secures an interest in its property equal to 5 shares in a Company of One Million Shares of the par value of only One Dollar each, as is the case with nearly all Mining Companies offering shares at a price seemingly lower than the present price of the shares of this Company, but in reality much higher.

Property of Company.

This is very extensive, consisting of four mining properties, each over one mile in length, on a great copper vein over 100 feet in width, pronounced by Copper experts as among the widest and richest copper veins known, lacking only the necessary development to place same in the front rank of the greatest dividend and copper producing properties.

It is on the same great Copper Mineral Belt upon which are located the world's present greatest copper mines, each paying many millions of dollars annually in dividends and developed to the depth of from 1000 to 2000 feet, thus fully establishing the fact that the veins are not alone inexhaustible, but widen and become even more profitable with depth.

The great vein on this property is of such unusual width and so prolific in copper ore from surface that only moderate developments are needed to begin the production of ore on a scale to insure large dividends on the shares of this Company.

The Company is sinking a shaft now nearly 100 feet in depth on the vein of one of its four properties, the "Pay Roll." This shaft is entirely in ore, which, by tests, gave values at the surface of from 3 to 4 per cent. copper; at the depth of fifty feet tests gave values of from 8 to 10 per cent. copper; at the depth of seventy feet tests gave values of from 12 to 14 per cent in copper, while selected samples show values as high as 12 per cent. copper and nearly $15 in gold and silver per ton.

The value of the gold per ton will enable the Company to produce copper at very low cost.

As showing that this great vein is not alone of unusual width, but also of rare richness in ore as compared with some of the richest copper mines, we refer to the great "Anaconda Mine," paying over $5,000,000 annually in dividends from ore averaging less than five per cent in copper; or to the "Boston and Montana" paying over $6,000,000 annually from ore averaging less than six per cent. in copper; or to the "Great Verde," paying nearly $5,000,000 annually in dividends from ore averaging less than six per cent. in copper.

To give an approximate idea of the amount of ore and its value, that can be opened by a moderate development in only a small part of such a vein, the following estimates are given: Estimating pay ore vein at only 25 feet in width, depth of shaft, 500 feet, length of levels, 500 feet, would open up 6,250,000 cubic feet of ore, or over Five Hundred Thousand Tons.

Estimating the net Profits at Twenty Dollars per ton, would give total net profits of Ten Million Dollars, or Ten Times the Amount of the Par Value of the entire Capital Stock of the Company, and sufficient to insure dividends to amount of Ten Dollars for each share of the stock. As the length of the vein on this one property, the "Pay Roll," is over one-quarter mile in length, and the depth to which same can be worked many thousands of feet, it will be seen that as a copper investment the shares of this Company offer an unusual opportunity.

The property of the Company is situated in Rio Arriba County, in the northern part of New Mexico (only 40 miles from the southern boundary line of Colorado), convenient to Railroad Station and in a section heavily timbered and one of the healthiest in the United States.

The Company has no debts or mortgages. Its property is free and clear and its management is under able mining experience.

One-quarter of the entire Capital Stock of the Company being 50,000 Shares of the par value of $250,000 has been placed in the Treasury of this Company as a working capital, of which a limited amount is offered for sale at

$1.00 PER SHARE

Until October 1st, when the price will be advanced to $1.50 per share.

As there are only 200,000 shares in this Company it will require net earnings of only $200,000 to pay dividends at rate of $1.00 yearly upon each share. This will require only a moderate development.

Those wishing to purchase shares can make remittance, by check or otherwise, to

HALO ENVELOPS HIM.

William J. Bryan Pays Tribute to Martyr President.

Says That Assassin's Deed Exalted the Victim's Place in History—Words That Will Live Long in Many Hearts.

Under the heading "God's Will, Not Ours, Be Done," W. J. Bryan says in the Commoner:

"These were the last words of President McKinley as he bade farewell to the loving companion of his life, to whom his kindness and devotion have been so constant and conspicuous. It was with this beautiful spirit of resignation that he turned from the realities of earth to explore the mysteries of the world beyond.

"The struggle was over—the struggle of a week during which hope and fear alternately gained the mastery. The book of life is closed and his achievements are a part of history. After he became conscious that the end was drawing near, but before the shadows quite obscured the light, he was heard to murmur some of the words of "Nearer, My God, to Thee." This sacred hymn contains several lines inspired by Jacob's night at Bethel:

"Though like a wanderer,
The sun gone down,
Darkness be over me,
My rest a stone."

"Thus do the lines immortalize the pillow which to Jacob must have seemed hard indeed—the pillow which, when morning came, the patriarch would not have exchanged for the softest one on which a weary head was ever laid.

"The terrible deed at Buffalo, rudely breaking the ties of family and friendship and horrifying every patriotic citizen, crowns a most extraordinary life with a halo that cannot but exalt its victim's place in history, while his bravery during the trying ordeal, his forgiving spirit and his fortitude in the final hours give glimpses of his inner life which nothing less tragic could have revealed.

"But, inexpressibly sad as is the death of McKinley, the illustrious citizen, it is the damnable murder of McKinley, the president, that melts 75,000,000 hearts into one and brings a hush to the farm, the factory and the forum.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.
(Democratic Leader Whose Tribute to McKinley May Become Classic.)

"One of the many striking and touching incidents occurring at Buffalo was the meeting between the president and Mrs. McKinley for the first time after the assault. The dispatches report that Mrs. McKinley took a seat at the bedside and held the president's hand. The distinguished sufferer looked into the face of his good wife and said in a low tone: 'We must bear up; it will be better for us both.' With tears streaming down her cheeks Mrs. McKinley nodded assent.

"There is a depth of pathos in this little incident that must appeal forcefully to those who appreciate the strength of the ties that bind a good husband to a good wife.

"There may be some people who have no idea of the thoughts that were passing through the minds of this couple at that moment. There are, however, many others who can imagine what these thoughts were. There, on the bed of pain, lay the strong, powerful man. By his side sat the frail woman, whose physical weakness has been for so many years the subject of this husband's tender solicitude. In an humble way they began life together. Two little graves had for them a common interest. In prosperity and in adversity they had stood together, participating equally in the joys and sharing equally in the sorrows of life. The wife had shared in the great honors that had come to her husband, and now, when the very summit of political ambition had been reached and political honors had become so common that the conveniences of a quiet, domestic life were longed for by the woman, in order, as she often expressed it, that she might have her husband to herself, the bullet of an assassin had done the work that threatened to blast the highest ambition of this woman's life.

"'We must bear up,' said the president; 'it will be better for us both.' It matters not to what extent other men and women may have grieved; it matters not how many tears other men and women may have shed and how much other hearts may have ached. All of this grief and woe could not have been so acute as was the grief and woe which this man and woman suppressed in compliance with the suggestion: 'It will be better for us both.'"

CHINESE CHRISTENING.

Yellow Chicago Baby Gets Its Name Amid Din of Tom Toms and with Quaint Ceremonies.

Hong Wong, son of Moy Sing Wong, was christened at the Chicago joss house amid the din of tom toms and fiddles, with the quaint and curious ceremonies of the Celestial people.

Moy Sing, proud father of the five-weeks-old, afterwards stood host at the Mun Fong Low restaurant to all the prominent citizens of the Chinese quarter, and provided for them a feast of native dainties that would have cost Hip Lung, Chicago's Chinese Croesus, a full week's profits. But as Moy Sing runs the restaurant he could afford it.

THE JOSS HOUSE CEREMONY.

The feast began at five o'clock in the afternoon, before the christening, and continued until daylight. Sam Moy, the king of Chinatown, acted as toastmaster. But the priest, who presided at the christening at the joss house, was a greater man.

The joss house, says the Chicago American, is at 319 Clark street. Its hideous carved gods are hidden in a back room on the second floor. Five hundred of their devotees bowed before them when the ceremonies began at nine o'clock. The priest, garbed in flowing robes, led them with young Hong Wong in his arms.

When the first prayers had been mumbled the official barber came and blocked out on the baby's head the spot where the queue, when he should be big enough to have one, should grow. Every inch of the infant's head, save one tiny spot in the middle, was shaven smooth.

The mother of Hong Wong was barred from the christening. In her place a female relative bore the child, in a gorgeous baby dress of red silk, up to the sanctuary of the joss and announced that the name of the mite would be Hong Wong.

At this Moy Sing began a protest, insisting that no child of his should go through life with a name like that. He kept up his clamor until several relatives locked him up in the back room and let the christening go on. Moy Sing did not care much, for it was all part of the ritual.

HAD A GREAT TIME.

How Little Kathryne Amused Herself When Left in the Room for Five Minutes.

Small Kathryne, aged two, left alone one day in her mamma's bedroom, said to herself: "Oh, won't I have a great time?" And she certainly did, asserts the Philadelphia Times.

"SEE THEM GO!"

She began by taking her papa's necktie box out of the bureau drawer and displaying all the neckties on the bed, where she thought they could be seen to much better advantage. The box wasn't interesting, so she threw that under the bed. Next she took a toy lamp to pieces, but as that wasn't quite exciting enough as a lamp study, she followed it up with even greater attention to the regular one, threw its wick out of the window, and poured the oil down the front of her dress.

Then she picked off the wall about half a yard square of paper, and powdered the bits on the floor with the contents of a talcum powder box. The pin tray on the bureau didn't suit her, so she broke that in two pieces and added the pins and trinkets to the scraps of paper and talcum powder. Next she turned her attention to a bottle of vaseline and rubbed it on her face and into her hair. A shower of photographs lay around the room in a fashion that would have done credit to the ambidextrous Keller or Herrmann.

This done Kathryne was just about to lay hold of her mother's shoes when that lady herself appeared. The baby tossed the pair of shoes over her head backward and said: "See them go."

There was plenty of "go," indeed, and all in about five minutes' time, too. This is a true story.

NEWSPAPER MAN'S MISTAKE.

He Sent Vice President Hobart's Card to a Senator Instead of His Own.

A Baltimore newspaper man once came over to Washington to do some interviewing of public men, says a Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American. It was when Garret A. Hobart was vice president, and he called upon that distinguished New Jerseyan first. Then, with fear and trembling, he went to the residence of a senator who was noted for frigidity toward representatives of the press. He sent up his card and expected to be sent a curt refusal to be seen. What was his astonishment when the lackey came downstairs, bowed profoundly and said that Senator So-and-So would be down in just a minute, and would he be so good as to make himself at home meanwhile. In less than that time the statesman came down the staircase at a pace that made the reporter fear for the safety of his limbs.

"Ah! Mr. Hobart, delighted to see you," he said, as he entered, with his hand outstretched, and before his eyes had become accustomed to the darkened parlor. Then, of a sudden, he drew himself up stiffly, fumbled in his waistcoat, pulled out the card that had been sent to him, and demanded: "What do you mean by this imposition, sir?" Like lightning it flashed on the newspaper man what had happened. He had, while in the vice president's room, inadvertently picked up one of Mr. Hobart's cards and had used it by mistake for one of his own. His apologies were ample, but the senator could not be induced to forgive that thrilling dash down the slippery staircase simply to accommodate a mere scribbler.

One.

"Mary," said the girl's mother rather sternly, "what time did your young man leave last night?"

"It must 'a' been exactly one o'clock, ma," volunteered the younger brother.

"How can you say such a thing?" exclaimed Mary, indignantly.

"Well, ma," said the boy, "when he was leavin' he asked Mary some question, and she said: 'Just one. Only one.'"—Catholic Standard.

An Advantage of Matrimony.

"I don't believe," said Mr. Meekton, pensively, "that married men ever get to be burglars."

"Have you looked up statistics?"

"No. But it seems impossible that a married man would ever dare to walk into a house the way a burglar does, without stopping at the front step to wipe his feet."—Washington Star.

"The pitcher that goes often to the well is broken at last." There's a world of wisdom in that familiar proverb, and a sound application of it to disease, especially to such familiar forms of disease as coughs and colds. Singularly enough the very thing that ought to cause alarm is given as excuse for a feeling of safety. "It's nothing; only a cough. I've had it before." The fact that a cough recurs periodically should be warning enough to take it in time, for the most serious and disastrous of all maladies begins with a cough.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only stops the cough but cures the cause. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, weak lungs, hemorrhages, diseases which if neglected or unskilfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine "just as good" for weak lungs.

"I was very sick indeed," writes Mrs. Mollie Jacobs, of Felton, Kent Co., Delaware, "and our family doctor said I had consumption. I thought I must die soon for I felt so bad. Had a bad cough, spit blood, was very short of breath, in fact could hardly get my breath at all some times. I had pains in my chest and right lung, also had dyspepsia. Before I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' I was so weak I could not sweep a room, and now I can do a small washing. I worked in the canning factory this fall, and I feel like a new person. I believe that the Lord and your medicine have saved my life. I was sick over two years. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Startling Revelations the Result of an Investigation Made by the Noted Josiah Flynt.

A protracted investigation of the nether side of Philadelphia, in which this famous criminologist devoted days and nights together with trusted friends, unknown to the police and unrecognized by the "grafters," will be reported in the great Philadelphia Sunday Press, beginning next Sunday, October 13. The facts are recited coldly, carefully, dispassionately, with detail and correctness—what the thief, the speak-easy proprietor and the tramp think of our great cities and of Philadelphia in particular from the standpoint of protected graft. It is a story of stupendous meaning to every taxpayer and voter in the United States. In order that you may be certain of reading it, you had better order a copy of next Sunday's Press from your newsdealer in advance.

Muncy Was a "Cinch."

George B. Appleman, of Rohrsburg, had an easy time with Muncy's much exploited quoiters, at that place, Friday afternoon. He went there alone, without even having met any of the gentlemen before, and came away with forty-eight out of fifty-one games to his credit. He won from Thos. Opp by a score of 227 to 144 in sixteen games: from William Crawford by a score of 177 to 91 in twelve games; from Charles Rooker, by a score of 90 to 17 in six games; from Morris Kelly, by a score of 45 to 18 in three games, and from Fred Peterson, by a score of 65 to 15. The distance pitched was fifteen feet. In the fifty-one games pitched Appleman scored 599 points to 258 by his opponents. Another match has been arranged to take place at Jerseytown.

THE STATE AT A GLANCE.

—John T. Davis, a well-known citizen of Mahanoy City, was found dead in a heading at Tunnel Ridge colliery Saturday afternoon. How he met his death is a mystery.

—Only a portion of Lloyd McGinnis' body could be found Saturday morning, after eighteen cars had run over him on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He was a brakeman, and fell under. He lived at Uniontown.

—Governor Stone on Saturday ordered a respite for George W. McMurray, Jr., the Allegheny county murderer, condemned to be hanged on October 8. The case has not yet been disposed of by the Board of Pardons.

—By a fall of coal at Draker colliery shortly after noon Saturday John Couihan, of Frackville, was literally cut in two. He went up into the breast to make measurements, when he was caught by a fall of a piece of coal about as large as a mine wagon, with the above result.

—Hugh P. Brisling and wife of Luzerne county, have lost their entire family of children from diptheria within a week. A son and daughter died on Wednesday and were buried together. Another son died on Friday, and Monday evening another son passed away. Their ages were from 3 to 9 years.

—At an early hour Saturday morning T. J. Lawall, one of the oldest residents of South Wilkes-Barre, died of valvular disease of the heart, aged 65 years. He was engaged in the coal business for many years. Mr. Lawall was born at Wapwallopen and moved to Wilkes-Barre thirty years ago. He is survived by two children.

—When David Boland was a young man several of his friends were killed in a railroad accident, and he vowed he would never ride in a train. Monday he arrived in Wilkesbarre from Chicago on a visit to friends whom he had not seen for thirty years, and he walked all the way. He is a well-to-do farmer, and he could afford to pay fare.

—A man believed to be A. Griesing, of Jersey City, procured lodging at a hotel in Wilkesbarre Saturday night. Sunday morning the odor of gas was smelled coming from his room. The door was broken in and the man was found dead on the bed. He had stopped up all the crevices in the doors and windows and then turned the gas on.

Bruce Keller has taken the place of W. B. Johnson, as ticket agent and operator at the Bloomsburg & Sullivan Railroad Station at Orangeville. He resigned a similar position on the C. P. & W. Railroad at Rohrsburg, to accept the new one.

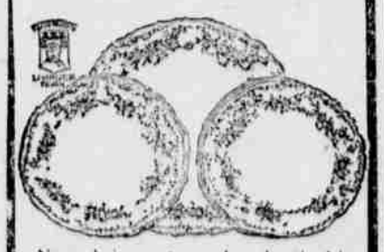
HAVE YOU READ ABOUT

"ELITE" CHINA



Now being extensively advertised in the leading periodicals? Well, you probably are anxious to see some of it. We have a nice display; odd pieces or full sets. Trade-mark on every piece. The most-talked-of china to-day in America. Glad to show it to you, if you will but call.

L. E. WHARY.

New Test of Citizenship.

It is said that when foreign born men apply next time for papers before the Luzerne county courts they will be required to say whether or not they are anarchists or have tendencies in that direction. If they believe in anarchy or show any sympathy for its principals they will not be passed.

McKinley Photographs.

Photographs of President McKinley while making his last speech, at Buffalo, on Sept. 5th, for sale by G. Edward Elwell, Jr. Orders may be left at this office. Prices, 3x4 inches, 25 cents; 9x9, 50 cents. tf.

The President's Name.

The name of the president of the United States is somewhat of a stumbling block to those who have not informed themselves as to its orthoepy. Some pronounce it Roosvelt, others Rooshvelt, others Rooshavault, Roosavelt,, and so on in great variety. The president himself, and all members of the Roosevelt family, who ought to be taken as authority on the subject, pronounce it as if spelled Rose-a-velt with the accent on the first syllable.
